

DISCOVER TIREE

DATA PROTECTION POLICY

GDPR is a regulation that requires businesses to protect the personal data and privacy of citizens for transactions which occur within EU member states. Discover Tiree holds data on its members to enable it to create listings on their behalf, on its Tiree website and app.

We also hold contact details to assist in the collection of subscription fees.

The data we hold relates only to these activities. The data is held securely and not shared in any way with a third-party, without individual permission. We hold contact information only and do not store any personal financial or financial transaction details.

If you are happy that Discover Tiree continues to store your details to enable it to create website listings and collect subscriptions, you need to take no further action.

If you do not wish Discover Tiree to hold this information you should contact us and we will remove your details from our database. This, of course, would result in your membership being closed and your listing removed from the website and app.
